

NAMES CITIES TO GET MONEY

M'ADOO HAS ALLOTTED $46,500,000 FOR MOVEMENT OF CROPS.

RETURNED IN APRIL

SOUTH GETS MONEY EARLIER THAN WESTERN STATES.

REPRESENTATIVES ARE SELECTED

To Pass on Paper—Alex Sanger for Dallas and I. H. Kemper of Galveston Selected.

Washington, Aug. 26.—Secretary McAdoo announced today the appointment as far as it had been completed of the $50,000,000 to be deposited by the government in national banks of the west and south to facilitate the movement and marketing of crops.

The total amount allotted to date is $46,500,000 of which $21,800,000 goes to banks in the thirteen southern states and the District of Columbia and $24,700,000 to the fourteen western states.

The southern banks have asked that their funds be deposited in August and September, and those in the west want the money apportioned to them during September, October and November. The money will be allowed to remain on deposit on an average of four or five months. All of it is to be returned not later than next April and the southern bankers, who get their money first, in December will begin turning it back into the treasury in monthly installments.

In a statement announcing the apportionment, Secretary McAdoo said:

"The funds are deposited in the banks in the west and south because it is believed there is short demand for the money to assist in marketing the crops, but if in the east or elsewhere it should be shown that there is need for the temporary use of funds for similar legitimate purposes the government will be quite as ready to extend similar aid."

Many factors were taken into consideration in arriving at the apportionment of deposits in the west and south.

"Among these," the secretary said, "were the immediate needs of the localities as reported by the committees of the clearing houses in the conferences held with them in Washington, the capital of the different national banks and the character of business transacted by them. The amount of money which these banks are at the present time advancing to their country bank correspondents and the additional accommodations which they expect to extend to these correspondents; their present condition as shown by the last comptroller's call; their outstanding circulation and the amount of rediscouts they may have made in their efforts to meet the legitimate demand made on them by customers and correspondents."

In each depositary city the government has chosen a special representative who will serve in conjunction with the clearing house committee of five to pass on all commercial paper recommended as security for deposits and all paper before being accepted must be unanimously recommended by this committee.

Following are amounts allotted to southern cities, the cities designated as depositaries and a partial list of government representatives:

Alabama—$1,500,000; Birmingham,

Arkansas—$600,000; Little Rock.

Florida—$1,150,000; Jacksonville, Pensacola, Tampa.

Georgia—$1,700,000; Atlanta, Savannah, Augusta, Macon.

Kentucky—$1,650,000; Lexington and Louisville.

Louisiana—$2,600,000; New Orleans (W. T. Hardie), Shreveport.

Maryland—$2,800,000; Baltimore.

Mississippi—$800,000; Jackson, Meridian, Vicksburg.

North Carolina—$1,300,000; Charlotte, Greensboro, Wilmington, Raleigh.

South Carolina—$1,500,000; Charleston, Greenville, Columbia, Spartanburg.

Tennessee—$1,850,000; Chattanooga, Knoxville, Memphis, Nashville.

Texas—$2,500,000; Dallas (Alexander Sanger), Fort Worth, Houston, Galveston (I. H. Kemper), San Antonio.

Virginia—$1,450,000; Lynchburg, Norfolk, Richmond, Roanoke.

District of Columbia—$500,000; City of Washington.

The amount apportioned to Oklahoma is $750,000, to be deposited in Muskogee and Oklahoma City.

THAW'S COUNSEL WITHDRAWS WRIT

PROCEEDINGS MAY BE POSTPONED INDEFINITELY—NOT TO BE ARRAIGNED.

NEXT MOVE FOR OTHER SIDE

Might Remain in Sherbrooke Jail or May Demand Trial Before King's Bench.

Sherbrooke, Quebec, Aug. 26.—The New York state forces and associate counsel fighting for the return of Harry K. Thaw to Matteawan announced early today that in their opinion the move of the defense to abandon the writ of habeas corpus could not be done without formal permission of the court, and that, in any event, Thaw would be forced into court, even if the commitment on which he is held had to be quashed.

The announcement was made by Franklin Kennedy, deputy attorney general, who returned from Ottawa and Montreal late last night, that if the state forces can make good their threat Thaw may be discharged today and turned over to the immigration authorities for deportation before night.

Sherbrooke, Que., Aug. 26.—Harry K. Thaw, Canadian lawyer late today withdrew the writ of habeas corpus obtained last week in his behalf and the fugitive from Matteawan will not be arraigned in the superior court tomorrow morning as had been expected. The withdrawal may postpone the proceedings indefinitely.

Rumors had been bandied about all day that the writ might be withdrawn but it was not until this evening that the notice was filed with the clerk of the court.

The next move in the Thaw case is now distinctly up to those desiring his deportation. Under the present commitment he might remain in the Sherbrooke jail indefinitely, electing to have a hearing before a district magistrate or demanding a jury trial before the king's bench, criminal side, which does not sit until October. Briefly Thaw's lawyers have decided to let him pace his cell meanwhile perfecting plans to defeat attempts to put him across the Canadian border.

"It is beyond me," said Wm. Thawers Jerome. "The fine points of Canadian law involved are such that I

COUNSEL FOR MANUFACTURERS' ASSOCIATION ON LOBBY PROBE STAND.

Tells Why He Opposed Buchanan Says Is Crook—Asked About Expense Money.

Washington, Aug. 26.—Examination of James A. Emery, counsel for the National Association of Manufacturers, concerning the activities of the association's agents against Representative Buchanan of Illinois, enlivened today's session of the senate lobby committee.

Emery said he opposed Buchanan because he considered that the latter, as president of the Structural Iron Workers' union, had sanctioned violence at Toledo, which differed only in degree from the dynamiting of the Los Angeles Times building.

"Well, the people of Chicago, elected this bad man, Buchanan, didn't they?" suggested Senator Reed.

"Yes, and then elected Lorimer," replied the witness.

"And Edward Hines, one of your members, assisted to elect him. Did you ever assist in trying to defeat a crook?" asked Senator Reed.

"Yes, and this is a good illustration."

"You mean to characterize Buchanan as a crook?"

"I think that is a good description." Emery was questioned at length concerning his office accounts, the investigator being particularly interested in one item varying from $170 to $200 a month "for clerical services." The witness said he thought the money was spent in keeping up an automobile for publicity and in political activities. He was told to bring the committee his cancelled checks.

Cross examination of Martin M. Mull before the house investigating committee by counsel for Representative McDermott of Illinois, continued today. McDermott himself will take the stand later.

WANTS INCOME TAX SECTION AMENDED

Washington, Aug. 26.—Attempts to limit the proposed income tax on larger incomes failed in the senate today when Senators Borah, Bristow and Cummins led an effort to amend the income tax section of the Democratic tariff bill.

A more radical provision with a maximum of 10 per cent on incomes of $100,000 or more will be submitted by Senator Bristow when the debate is resumed tomorrow.

In the pending bill the rates on larger incomes are:

One per cent on incomes from $20,000 to $50,000; two per cent from $50,000 to $100,000, and three per cent above $100,000.

Senator Borah proposed the following "additional tax."

One per cent on incomes from $10,000 to $30,000; two per cent from $30,000 to $50,000; three per cent from $50,000 to $80,000; four per cent from $80,000 to $100,000 and five per cent above $100,000.

The Democrats voted solidly against the increase and were joined by Senators Clarke (Wyoming), Gallinger, Lippitt, Lodge, Oliver, Penrose, Root, Smoot, Warren and Weeks, from the Republican side.

The demand for an increase of the tax on big incomes was accompanied by the declaration that men with big incomes would escape their just share of the tax under the bill.

"The man with small income always pays his tax more completely," said Senator Borah. "That does the man with the larger income."

Senator Root said the plan to tax the undivided "gains and profits" of all corporations or partnerships would be impossible of administration. He insisted that these undivided profits

CO-OPERATIVE FARMING REPORT

General Report of American Commission of Studies Made in Europe.

Colorado Springs, Aug. 26.—Closer co-operation between the government and settlers in the reclamation of many sections of arid west was the keynote of an address this afternoon by Secretary of the Interior Franklin M. Lane before the fifth annual conference of governors, which opened here today.

Mr. Lane's speech was taken as an announcement of the new policy adopted by the interior department, gained from a tour of the west during the last few weeks, where the secretary has inspected dozens of irrigation projects with view of gaining information that will enable the Wilson administration to do more for the farmer and stockman.

"It is my conception that the main duty of the United States government in its land department is to help the people to make homes," the secretary said, "and if we can lighten their burden, the government will suffer not at all."

The visiting governors and their wives were guests of Governor and Mrs. Elias M. Ammons of Colorado tonight at a reception and ball.

Farmers of the United States speedily must come to an understanding of the organization and union of forces in producing and selling farm crops and in the financing of agricultural operations in this country to keep pace with the developments of European nations, was the message from the American commission on rural credit in a report given by Senator Fletcher of Florida, read before the conference today by Gordon James of Denver.

This was the first general report of the extended investigation made in Europe by the American commission under joint authority of congress, the governments of twenty-nine states and the southern commercial congress with a view of extension of rural credits and co-operative farming enterprises.

RATLIFF REFUSED HABEAS CORPUS

Little Lord Fauntleroy New Philippine Governor

He who was "Little Lord Fauntleroy" will become governor of the Philippines. President Wilson has sent to the senate the nomination of F. Burton Harrison, member of congress from New York City, and son of Mrs. Francis Burton Harrison, author of that famous little story, "Little Lord Fauntleroy."

Mr. Harrison has been in politics for many years and has served several terms in congress, where has come to be recognized as a tariff expert. He holds an important place on the ways and means committee of the house. Chairman Underwood has given to him through two congresses the preparation of important schedules of his tariff bills.

In fact, Harrison, though ostensibly a Tammany man—is one of the wealthy young men of New York City whom Tammany Hall made an attempt to annex several years ago—is considered one of the best informed members of congress. He is one of the few representatives from New York City for whom there is respect in Washington.

Officials Not Sanguine.

Officials were not sanguine tonight that the Huerta government would withdraw its rejection of the American note and preparations were being made for the delivery of the special message by the president. Both houses had passed a resolution to meet in joint session at 6 o'clock tomorrow.

While administration officials regret they were unsuccessful in bringing things to a definite point in bringing the Land negotiations official and unofficial information indicates to them that the Huerta government cannot last much longer. With foreign governments supporting the American policy there is little hope, according to the official view here, for the Huerta government to obtain any funds abroad to pay its army or meet running expenses.

Hayes Furnished Precedent.

Washington, Aug. 26.—President Wilson's message—a communication which formally denies recognition to the Huerta government though expressing sincere friendship for the great mass of Mexican people without voice in the government—is essentially a review of the mission of John Lind and his negotiations with the Huerta government.

The message cites as an almost parallel precedent for the action of the administration today the difficulties between President Hayes in 1877 and Porfirio Diaz, who, after overthrowing President Lerdo, sought American recognition. Though foreign governments recognized Diaz, the United States waited a year, not only until an election was held, but until it was satisfied that the government thereby set up could guarantee international contracts.

Reference to this precedent led to the belief that while hitherto it has been supposed that immediately after an election held by Huerta, recognition would be extended, the likelihood was that the United States would not extend the hand of friendship to the existing government or its successor in Mexico for some time.

President Hayes, in 1877, ordered General Ord to the border with power to cross into Mexico with American troops to suppress marauding bands who were plundering the property of the Rio Grande.

On that occasion the federal government had been lax in giving border residents protection, but as soon as troops were ordered south the Diaz government indignantly announced that the entrance of any American soldiers into Mexico would be regarded as an invasion and act of war.

The views of President Hayes, as expressed by Secretary Seward to John W. Foster, American minister to Mexico, and from which President Wilson takes precedent for his policy of today, were:

Friendly Course.

"The government of the United States in its dealings with the Mexican republic has aimed to pursue not merely a just, but a generous and friendly course. While earnest to guard and protect the rights of its own citizens and the safety of its own territory, it does not seek to intervene in political contests of administration. It is anxious to accept and recognize the result of a popular choice in Mexico, and not to scrutinize closely the regularity or irregularity of the methods by which presidents are inaugurated.

"In the present case it waits before recognizing General Diaz as president of Mexico until it shall be assured that his election is approved by the Mexican people and his administration is possessed of stability to endure and of disposition to comply with the rule of international comity in the obligation of treaties.

"Such recognition, if afforded, would imply something more than a mere formal assent. It would imply a belief that the government so recognized will faithfully execute its duties and uphold the spirit of the treaties.

"The recognition of a president in Mexico by the United States has an important moral influence which you explain is appreciated at the capital of that republic. It aids to strengthen the power and lengthen the tenure of the encumbent and if, as you say, the example of the United States in that regard is one that other nations are disposed to follow, such recognition would not be without effect—both upon the internal and external peace of Mexico. You may add that those administrations have been longest lived that were most faithful and friendly in the discharge of their treaty obligations to the opposition."

Thaw himself could not be seen, in view of a new rule of the sheriff barring interviewers except when accompanied by one of Thaw's counsel, but that he was consulted before any action was taken was attested by the fact that his signature was signed to the application. It was a mere formality with Thaw, though, for the greater part of his day he spent in working out more details of his publicity campaign. His ambitions may be nipped to some extent by the curtailment of interviewers, but he can still send out statements.

Mr. Jerome was asked if he had anything of particular interest to say to Americans with reference to the Thaw case, now that he was on the ground and had learned something of the Canadian attitude toward White's slayer.

"No, but I have something I'd like to say to the people of Canada," he exclaimed. "They seem to regard this man as a martyr. No one is persecuting him; no one wants him."

Says Wants Issue Strictly Anti-Tammany—Republican Committee Endorses Fusionists.

New York, Aug. 26.—Tammany Hall tonight placed District Attorney Chas. S. Whitman, republican, on its ticket for re-election. Before the prosecutor was designated by the democratic committee Charles F. Murphy said no assurance had been received that Mr. Whitman would accept.

The district attorney, when informed of Tammany's action, declared he was not ready to say whether he would accept the designation, but would make his decision known within two or three days.

Mr. Whitman's endorsement of the Tammany indorsement would place his name on all the tickets so far nominated.

The fusionists, the republicans, the progressives and the independence League have all named him for re-election.

Before Mr. Whitman returned tonight from Breton Woods, N. H., a telegram was dispatched to him by Seth Low, republican, former mayor and one of the leaders in many fusion movements, urging Mr. Whitman to refuse the Tammany designation and "keep the anti-Tammany issue clear and unmistakable."

The republican designating committee today indorsed the fusion nominees on the Manhattan Borough, county and judicial tickets.

The republican meeting today was one adjourned from yesterday because of a development in the mayoralty situation involving a possible agreement being reached between republicans opposed to the fusion state and independent democrats desiring nomination of Mayor Gaynor, whom Tammany refused to nominate. No reference to the plan was made at the republican meeting today, but it developed tonight that Gaynor republican headquarters have been opened on the east and west sides.

WILL NOT BUILD POST ROAD

Kuteman Reports That Parker, Palo Pinto and Tarrant Counties Will Not Get Highway.

Weatherford, Tex., Aug. 26.—It now seems possible that the government post road for Parker, Palo Pinto and Tarrant counties will not be built according to the report made by H. W. Kuteman to the Weatherford Chamber of Commerce last night. Since Kuteman's return from Washington in company with Judge Brown of Fort Worth and Eberhard of Mineral Wells, it has turned out that Tarrant county has expended all but $19,000 of that $50,000 appropriation and the officials at Washington made it plain that no part of a privately constructed road would be considered. By raising $15,000 more Parker and Palo Pinto counties could get the road built from the west line of Tarrant county and an effort may be made to raise this sum.

SUIT FILED AGAINST KATY

Mrs. Emma Cassidy of Gainesville Wants Damages for Death of Husband.

Gainesville, Tex., Aug. 26.—Mrs. Emma Cassidy has filed suit in district court here against the M. K. & S. Railway company for $25,000 for her self and their small children on account of the death of her husband, who was killed in a wreck near Denison several weeks ago.

This is one of the largest suits of the kind ever filed in this section of the state.

FIRE AT MCKINNEY.

General Merchandise Store and Post Office Damaged.

McKinney, Tex., Aug. 26.—Fire of unknown origin which originated in the general merchandise store of Watkins, Mantooth, Anderson & Co. at Altoona, about ten miles northeast of McKinney, this morning totally destroyed the building and the stock of goods valued at $12,000. A barber shop was also destroyed. The front of a bank building on the northeast corner of the square was badly damaged. The post office was located in the building of Watkins, Mantooth, Anderson & Co., and all the fixtures of the office were destroyed. The entire loss is estimated at about $15,000, partially covered by insurance.

THE NUMBER TWO SOCIETY TO MEET ON FRIDAY.

It is the custom of the Number Two society to devote the fifth Friday, when one occurs, to the social side of church intercourse. But for August this is indefinitely postponed. Instead Circle Number Six, with Mrs. W. W. Evans director, will present a pleasing program. The hour is 4 o'clock.

MRS. J. W. DOWNS REQUESTS MARY WEST CHAPTER

The members of the Mary West chapter who have been named as chairmen of the several committees for the Cotton Palace booth are requested by Mrs. Downs all to be at Mrs. Smith's promptly at 4 o'clock this afternoon. There are some matters to be discussed before the general meeting of the chapter.

The weekly dance takes place at the Country club.

The marriage of Miss Katherine Hooks and J. W. Fulkinson takes place at 10 o'clock.

The marriage of Miss Annie Lucie Cummings and James Null York takes place at the Church of the Assumption; 8:30 o'clock.

MR. AND MRS. E. R. BOLTON SAILED ON TUESDAY

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Bolton, Edward Jr., with Mrs. Flora Cameron, sailed from New York on Tuesday. They were passengers on the German liner Kaiser Wilhelm the Second, to land at Bremer. From there they follow their own fancy in travel until October the eighth, when they return on the great Imperator. This is rather sudden, not the idea, but the consummation. Mrs. Cameron went from Buffalo to New York City on Monday. Cards reached home friends on Tuesday telling that passage had been engaged for the sailing date name, Paris, London and Germany will positively be the itinerary, and other places, not yet determined, will be.

MRS. THOMAS HAMILTON HAS IDEA FOR COTTON PALACE

Among the many women interested in the coming Cotton Palace is Mrs. Thomas Hamilton of West Columbus. In this Mrs. Hamilton does not profess originality, but she passes on a few ideas which she described to her relatives in California. This is a carnival of lanterns, the Festival of Lanterns, it is called. Every man, woman and child, vehicle and piece of foliage to say nothing of boats if those pixie is decorated with a Mikado lantern for a night festival and parade. Such, among the Cotton Palace trees with the bridges and the fountain decorated, make-believe barges in the stream through the grounds, would make a revel of beauty well worth the attempt. Is it not an idea for Mrs. Wilkes and her committee who have charge of the Japanese display to consider this a climax to their work?

MORE OF MISS WRAGG IN HER NORTHERN HOME

In addition to what was said concerning Miss Eleanor Wrapp in her connection with the New Haven Register continues from what was published on Tuesday.

Her home life and home speak.

There you find not only the woman, but the true and sublime atmosphere of the artist soul.

Miss Wrapp spent some years of her life in Texas, and her Texas pictures bring north the beauty of the roses, the trees and the blue of the atmosphere.

In miniature portrait painting Miss Wrapp brings out the very soul of her subject; character delineation is wonderful, clear and beautiful. The pose of the head and shoulders, true art that touches. The faces of the aged are true and so real they almost speak, but Miss Wrapp's natural modesty, sweet pose and old-time culture produce the reverent, although she is still young.

"Such charm of manner, strength of character, talent, womanliness and sweet modesty do not often seek the seclusion of the sea and rocks. Miss Wrapp, however, who has taught art in colleges and private schools, loves the quiet she finds in her home overlooking the sea, which she purchased after only about twenty-four hours' deliberation.

Miss Wrapp loves her home so much she spent last winter there, and very happily."

Miss Wrapp will be one of the exhibitors in the art section of the Cotton Palace.

SOME NOTES FROM TOURISTS IN EUROPEAN COUNTRY

The Tuesday mail brought the always welcome mail from abroad. These mails are of especial interest here in that so many of our Wacoans have been on the trip, and their movements noted in The Morning News. In the last mail were cards from the Armstrong party.

Mrs. N. E. Boggess selected among others a view of the great opera house of Paris. It is known that the government owns this wonderful building whose outer frieze bears ornate busts of the great French composers. Within the interior has all the sparkle of the great love of the French for glitter. Nothing in the world from the standpoint of architecture equals this building. The grand stairway alone is the envy of nations. Mrs. Boggess writes, "We heard Aida in this magnificent opera house last night. It was sumptuously staged and we enjoyed the opera, the whole thing, music and audience, very much."

Mrs. M. E. Mantons card was from the great pleasure garden of the French at Versailles. The story is little short of marvels to tell. The water for the Versailles gardens was carried many hundred miles at an enormous expense just to gratify king's taste in making fountains innumerable. One of the greatest advertisements Paris can give to the summer tourist is that "the fountains will play at Versailles today." The trains, the coaches, everything is then crowded to suffocation for the afternoon trip to Versailles. The palace is now a museum of the wonderful paintings and tapestries. The Napoleon victories are pictured on the walls, the choicest pieces of the Gobelins are in a special room. The extravagance at Versailles was a factor in bringing the gardens where the people love to play.

There are thousands every Sunday doubtless an impetus will be given to the winter society; for, of course, these debutantes must receive royal welcome. Incidentally, we hope they will look into the subject of what society expects of them during their first season "out."

The first cards have come from Mrs. Webster Baker, who with Mr. Baker, is touring the Pacific slope. They were last in Los Angeles, where they joined the James Bakers for sight seeing around this beautiful spot.

Mrs. Frank Brelsford writes from her summer home in San Simeon that has gone down from Monterey for the delightful air, water and lively scenes. The Morning News is a daily visitor and Mrs. Brelsford says "We enjoy it thoroughly every morning." Few absences of such length from the old home retain the same lively interest in home friends as has Mrs. Brelsford.

Those of us who desire to take on city ways for Waco can add one more stroke by keeping to the right when we walk in the downtown district. This is conducive to more speed, better passage, and the atmosphere of a congested city. It is just as easy to fall into the habit of walking to the right as in driving to the right. Never mind the shop window hugging; if we do we see the pretty things on the way down we will be next the window on the way up.

Mrs. J. E. Boynton, who took her summer outing in her old Alabama home, has returned in time to enjoy her friends here before assuming her winter school classes.

Mrs. Mitchell Nash is about due from her summer sojourn at Marfa. Mrs. Nash is now with her, and their return is expected within another week.

Mrs. S. H. Clinton with Miss Fay Clinton is enjoying life in New York City to the extent that no mention is yet made of a time for returning home.

Mrs. W. D. Scruggs left for Hillsboro on Tuesday. She is to make arrangements there for returning to reside again in Waco. She will be in the Sturges home on North Fourth street.

After an outing with her son at Culver, Mrs. Nelson Smith has returned to Chicago, where she awaits the cooler weather for her home coming.

Miss Frankie Bolton of South Fourth, who has been absent since early spring, writes that she will remain east until the holidays.

Had you thought how many Paris gowns Waco society will show during the coming season? This means the summer shopping of our several Waco girls who have "toured." But we hear nothing of the new apparel of the men. Is it not rather the contrast that all women flock for gowns from Paris while the men leave orders at home? London?

Suggestions for Cotton Palace ideas come rolling in. This is evidence that the women are roused to an interest which they have not heretofore manifested.

Having sent her trunk in advance, it is expected that Miss Miriam Suhler, who has been east, will be at home before the close of the present week.

The homecoming of Mrs. Ray Rowell brings the first personal message from Miss Lucile Mayfield. Mrs. Rowell called at the hospital with Dr. and Mrs. Foscue and found Miss Mayfield a very sick girl. Mrs. Rowell feels that the case was even more serious than we at home have considered. The latest news, however, is the most encouraging yet.

It is estimated that flies kill more persons than all the beasts of prey and the poisonous serpents combined. Then let me never stir our war against them in our home.

Is it not a constant warfare to keep the home attractive? Truly here we have the proof that all things are made to war, the one against the other. The bird is enemy to the insect, the larger bird to the smaller, and so, through the animal kingdom. And these same animals, the browsing cow and the scratching hen, are the worst enemy to the flower and the lawn.

Why not cultivate the habit of putting our letter parings within the envelope rather than scattering them on the streets? Multiply the number by the number of persons in Waco, and we get some idea of what this thought will do for the neatness of our little city.

Miss Flora Lee McCullough will attend Southwestern at Georgetown this winter. She leaves late in September.

Society Notes.

Miss Louise Napier, who is spending her vacation at home, leaves sooner than the opening of her school in Fort Worth in order to visit friends in the Panhandle.

In referring to the Texas commandery of the great Knights Templar conclave recently held in Denver a full page was given to the portrait of Mrs. J. B. Sawtelle of this place and of Mrs. George Tyler of Belton.

CREDITABLE EDITION.

Sunday last the El Paso Times celebrated its thirty-third anniversary by issuing an eighty-page edition. It is a splendid paper, and shows plainly the development that is in progress in Western Texas. The Times has seen the frontier days disappear and has watched modern machinery and customs come in to undertake the improvement of the natural resources of that State, and in the columns of this edition there is much of interest regarding the mineral wealth and other products in that part of the country. The descriptive matter in reference to the banks, the paving, the schools and other municipal enterprises, indicate that El Paso is a growing city, that will redouble all present efforts as soon as the war troubles in the neighboring republic are settled. Waco has contributed a number of her people to the good citizenship of El Paso and it is gratifying to know by this magnificent edition of the Times that they are living in a progressive and up-to-date municipality. John L. Dyer, Percy McGhee and others from here, George F. Hawks, who went from Houston, and others of this eastern section, are joining with men like former State Senator Turney and Charles Davis in the making of El Paso.

DABBLER FOR DOLLARS.

Chautauqua addresses appear to be some of the Secretary of State in come of the secretary of State in President Wilson's cabinet, as it appears that he has another side line that is just being presented—the fact that he is an administration mouth-piece, being used as a circulation booster for his paper published out in Nebraska.

This man, who came before the people as a candidate three times for the highest office in the land, self-styled "The Commoner," finds that he cannot maintain himself in the simple life of the plain people on the salary of a cabinet officer. With bravado that is without equal in this country, he announced that public opinion to the contrary he would continue on his chautauqua circuit and deliver addresses at one dollar per head, and he has done so, canceling his engagements only when there appeared to be a crisis in the foreign affairs of the country. But this is not all. Read this latest announcement in the Commoner, his personal publication:

"As an incident to the Democratic victory I have been invited to become a member of the president's official family, and as his representative in one of the departments of the government, am brought into contact with international problems.

"As a member of the cabinet, too, I enjoy the opportunity of participating in the discussion of such problems as the president sees fit to bring before that body.

"As an exponent of the plans and purposes of the administration the Commoner can accomplish even more than a monthly than it could as a weekly. Administrative and legislative plans develop gradually, and there is no need of haste in meeting the criticisms that may be directed against the program of the party now in authority. The Commoner will be able to present to its individual readers, and through its multitude of exchanges to a still larger audience, the government's side of the questions under discussion. WM. J. BRYAN."

To which we append the fiscal annex of the Secretary of State:

One year, $100.
Six months, 50c.
Three months, 25c.
Single copy, 10c.
Five or more per year, 75c.
Foreign post, 25c extra.

SUBSCRIPTIONS can be sent direct to the Commoner. All remittances should be sent by postoffice money order, express order, or by bank draft on New York or Chicago. Do not send individual checks, stamps or currency.

There is but one thing to admire about the Secretary of State—his consistency in price. One dollar gets him either as a speaker or a writer. One dollar a head appears to be this man's price, and he uses any plan that suggests itself to give publicity to his performances.

Times saw different men in the days of 1872. When Horace Greeley was nominated for the presidency he retired from journalistic work. This card was published then in the Tribune:

"The Tribune has ceased to be a party organ, but the unexpected nomination of its editor at Cincinnati seems to involve it in new embarrassment. All must be aware that the position of a journalist who is at the same time a candidate is at best irksome and difficult—that he is fettered in action and restrained in criticism by the knowledge that whatever he may say or do is closely scanned by thousands eager to find in it what may be so interpreted as to annoy or perplex those who are supporting him as a candidate, and to whom his shackled condition will not permit him to be serviceable. The undersigned, therefore, withdraws absolutely from the conduct of the Tribune, and will henceforth, until further notice, exercise no control or supervision over its columns. HORACE GREELEY."

What a difference between men!

The Secretary of State in Mr. Wilson's cabinet is a dabbler for dollars, barter his speech and the product of his pen for silver, and uses his high position as a publicity agent to gather an audience.

MR. HENRY'S VICTORY.

According to The Associated Press report there seems to be a difference of opinion between Chairman Glass and Mr. Henry on the meaning of the amendment to the currency bill which will allow the issuance of agricultural currency, and we are not prepared to accept the statement of Chairman Glass that Mr. Henry "jumped after the boat left the wharf." Mr. Henry has been leading the fight for recognition of the agricultural currency, and the amendment that has been agreed on in caucus provides that such currency "may be issued." Mr. Henry, in his telegram to the editor of the Morning News, insists that he has won his contention. It matters not what Chairman Glass says, the amendment reads for itself, and if there was no such provision in the original bill, and that provision has now been incorporated, it looks on the face of things like Congressman Henry and his associates have forced it.

The New York Herald's Washington correspondent said in a recent issue:

Forced to yield by the almost unanimous demand of the members from the cotton States and many from the corn and wheat States of the Middle West, the house leaders consented to broaden their compromise amendment to permit the federal reserve banks to rediscount all sorts of "agricultural currency," but they are standing firm on the proposition that it shall merely be permissible and not mandatory, as demanded by Representative Henry and his associates.

The New York Tribune Washington correspondent said in a recent issue:

Predictions hold good that the insurgents will force a change in the language of the rediscounth section which is asserted by the Ragsdale-Henry faction, does not provide adequately for rediscounth of farmers' paper backed by products of the farm.

These expressions were forecasts of what would be the result in the caucus discussion, and it seems that it has been borne out by the facts. If Congressman Henry has won his fight, he is entitled to the victory, because he has contested the point against strong opposition in congress and against the criticism from the outside which saw in his suggestion but a visionary plan and the dream of a theorist. He has stood up against the ridicule of the national press and has insisted upon his measure against the leaders of the party, even to the occupant of the white house.

Now that Mr. Henry has finished his fight on the currency measure, we suggest that he prod up the work on the lock and dam near Waco.

Let the people on North Eighteenth street express their opinions as to the paving. The city commission has given them the chance and Friday is the last day.

Commissioner Dollins has made good on his promise to require service of the public service corporation, and to provide a meter test for those who think there are leaks when the bill is figured up. It is up to the commission to pass these ordinances. The people demand them.

The Innocent Convict.
(Duluth Herald.)

Wisconsin is going to experiment with a law to compensate innocent persons who have been sent to prison by a miscarriage of justice.

The new law creates a commission composed of the governor and the members of the state board of control, to handle this humane public work. Provision is made for the taking of evidence to establish the guilt or innocence of petitioners. The compensation to be awarded is to be not more than $1500 a year, and not more than $5000 in the aggregate. If, in the opinion of the commission, the amount permitted by law does not afford adequate relief, it may present exceptional cases to the legislature for redress.

This law is human, modern, civilized and just.

Even its provisions cannot make complete restitution to a man who has unjustly suffered the ignominy of imprisonment; but probably it is as far as the law can go.

We believe him innocent and we believe him a poor man." McLean said, "and we are going to defend him without even a promise of compensation."

The biggest crowd that had attended any previous session of the hearing filled the courtroom early Tuesday morning. The jury box was half filled with women. Several women brought their knitting along, but there was no knitting done after the testimony was given.

We women will fill these jury boxes in trials some day," one of the occupants of the box commented.

WILL ENTERTAIN CITY'S GUESTS

VISITORS AT HOTELS WILL BE SHOWN OVER THE CITY IN AUTOMOBILES.

MAY HAVE JOINT CELEBRATION

Hillsboro Organization Favors Double Celebration of Interurban Service.

The plan to give guests of the hotels of Waco free auto rides over the city was sanctioned and other important matters of routine were considered at the regular meeting of the directorate of the Young Men's Business League last night.

C. C. Shuman presented the plan, which consists of making arrangements whereby enough automobiles may be secured to carry the guests of the various hotels over the city, that the traveling men and tourists may have a definite idea of the beauty and desirability of Waco as a place to locate. Details of the plan will be worked out later, but the general idea received the hearty endorsement of the directors. It is proposed to begin the plan within a month at least and continue it for several weeks and perhaps resume it again next spring.

President Frank Trau said that it was one of the best propositions that had been submitted in its feasibility and probable results.

W. V. Crawford declared that for its novelty and advertising worth it could not be beaten. This sentiment was general and the president was authorized to appoint a committee to arrange the details.

A letter was read from the Hillsboro Chamber of Commerce to the Y. M. B. L., asking them to co-operate in the celebration of the first car over the interurban. The letter proposed that Wacoans attend the celebration given by Hillsboro early in the afternoon and that the people of Hillsboro in turn would catch the interurban cars and come down to the Waco jubilee.

No definite action was taken in response to the invitation except that a committee is to be appointed to consider the celebration.

corner of Austin and Fourth will be corner of Austin and Fourth will be reported and generally received. The publicity committee, with W. V. Crawford as chairman, was authorized to expedite the necessary amount to have a set of first-class condition.

In the case any one from Waco attends the good roads meeting to be held at Clayton, New Mexico, next Saturday, it was decided to give him credentials and assurance to the assembly of the hearty commendation of the Y. M. B. L.

The plan of putting Waco before travelers by means of a large road sign at suitable locations along the railroads was taken under advisement by the publicity committee, with the request that definite estimates for the cost of the project be submitted to the directors.

H. C. Rohrer, chairman of the agricultural committee, stated that a report on the condition of agriculture in this part of the state with a special report on cotton conditions, had been sent to the New York chamber of commerce in reply to an inquiry.

All members of the league will receive a letter from the secretary with in the next few days, asking them for any suggestions they may have for changes in the constitution, according to a decision by the directorate.

No definite date was set for the Y. M. B. L. at the Texas Cotton Palace, but the matter will be taken up by the president, and the sentiment of the directors is that the day will be one of the greatest of the Palace.

At the next general meeting on September 9, an informal smoker with cigars and soft drinks will take the place of the more elaborate dinner that has been served heretofore.

A great convenience of the Cotton Palace that is little known of by the rural population was brought to the minds of the directors by the receipt of a scrawled, unsigned letter from a farmer. He asked the league if it wanted to do a noble piece of work by making arrangements for taking care of the farmer's babies when he came to attend the big fair. It was suggested that on the second floor of the main building there was a nursery and that publicity should be given to this convenience.

Resolutions were ordered drawn, expressing the regret of the Y. M. B. L. at the death of Frank J. Battle.

Sam M. Knight, who was elected to fill the place of O. M. Weatherby, made vacant by his resignation, was present and expressed his appreciation at being one of the directors.

Those present at the meeting were:

Frank Trau, W. V. Crawford, Davis Stribling, Perry Duncan, B. McColum, Frank West, Sam Knight, J. Fisher and W. W. Woodson.

LEAVES PULPIT FOR STAGE.

Rev. Mr. Lambert Will Put on "For Love of Her" in New York.

Philadelphia, Aug. 21.—H. W. Henshaw, chief of the biological survey, department of agriculture, of Washington, D. C., was in the city recently on business.

Mr. Henshaw has been looking into the matter of federal protection of migratory birds on the Pacific coast.

The Weeks-McLean bill, which was passed last March and which goes into effect this fall, gives the biological survey charge of these matters.

Mr. Henshaw passed most of the day in consultation with State Game Warden Finley and with L. A. Lewis, who is in charge of the federal wild bird services.

Mr. Henshaw said that a great many experiments have been carried on concerning the inoculation of rabbits to decrease the number, but in each case these have been a failure.

There is little or no difficulty in inoculating certain rabbits, but the difficulty lies in finding a disease that will spread to the other members of the same family.

The cause for the rapid increase of rabbits is on account of the killing off of the coyotes, which are their natural enemies.

During the last few years there has been a great deal paid out in bounty in killing coyotes, and as a natural result the rabbits have increased.

For many reasons experts consider the bounty system unsatisfactory, said Mr. Henshaw.

One of the most effective methods of diminishing rabbits in eastern Oregon has been the organization of rabbit drives. In three drives held in Harney county last winter there were between 16,000 and 18,000 jackrabbits killed.

cordance with his "financial ability to hire such counsel as Gillespie, distinguished former congressman; McLean, Scott, McLean & Bradley and Baskin, Dodge and Eastus."

"Let the power that hired the First Baptist church burnet get Ratliff out of jail on bond," Cummings said.

McLean Explains Employment.

William P. McLean Jr., one of the defense, explained that Lee Weatherford, one of the three defendants, had engaged his firm, furnishing a small fee. Gillespie had been retained by Roy Eastus' brother to defend Eastus jointly with Baskin, Dodge & Eastus.

Inasmuch as all the cases are alike, Mr. McLean explained, the attorneys for Weatherford and Eastus were defending Ratliff without any promise of pay.

"We believe him innocent and we believe him a poor man," McLean said, "and we are going to defend him without even a promise of compensation."

PROS NOW VISIT CAPITOL

Since Mayes is Acting as Executive, Complexion of Callers Has Undergone Change.

Austin, Aug. 26.—Since Will H. Mayes, lieutenant governor, became acting governor the political complexion of the callers at the executive office has undergone such change as to attract attention and call for remarks. The tables have turned and the pre-callers are in the majority. Mr. Mayes welcomed to the governor's office today and Monday men who had not entered there since the beginning of the first Colquitt administration, and considering their long absence they were not a bit nervous about it, either. Some of these hold official positions and others are from the ranks, both in Austin and out over the state.

On account of this being the mid-summer dull season the capital for the most part is almost as dull and uninteresting as a closed country church. Even routine work is at its lowest ebb. Very little official business is being transacted by the acting governor, who sits in cool linens, sits under the ceiling fan throughout the day and looks completely the part of one at peace, official and otherwise, with the entire citizenship of the state.

"I have not had a day off for months," said Acting Governor Mayes today, "and it is my intention to take a vacation of two weeks or more soon after the return of Governor Colquitt. I have not selected the spot, but I want to get far away from the dust and strife of city and town where I can get in close touch with rejuvenating nature, do things to build up the physical man and get plenty of fried chicken and a few other good country dishes."

Pioneer Woman Dies.

West, Aug. 26.—The body of Mrs. W. W. Glasgow, who died in Mineral Wells at 6 o'clock this morning, will be buried here at 3:30 this afternoon in Liberty Grove cemetery. Rev. R. E. Ingram of the Central Presbyterian church of Waco, will conduct the funeral services. The pallbearers will be George D. Crow, Eugene Browne, Owen Presnell, Otto Clopper, Steve Christian and William Steele.

Mrs. Glasgow was in her seventy-fourth year and with her husband was one of the earliest settlers in McLennan county, having come here several years before the Civil War. She was loved by all who knew her and measured her friends by the hundreds.

Mrs. Glasgow is survived by her husband, W. W. Glasgow, by one son, W. R. Glasgow, and by one daughter, Mrs. J. J. Holt.

NEGLIGENT HOMICIDE

GALVESTON CHAUFFEUR HELD RESPONSIBLE FOR DEATH OF WOMAN IN AUTO.

Two Machines Dash Over Sea Wall. Mrs. John Moore of Orange is Killed.

Galveston, Aug. 26.—Charges of negligent homicide were today placed against Hubert Hemmeler, a chauffeur who was driving one of the two automobiles that went over the seawall last night and resulted in the death of Mrs. John Moore of Orange.

Crashing together on the seawall boulevard at the east end of Market street late Monday evening, two automobiles containing eight persons, skidded across the boulevard sidewalk, shot over the edge of the seawall and dropped to the granite rip-rap seven feet below. Mrs. John Moore of Orange, aged 53, was instantly killed. Mrs. P. Blaier of Galveston, daughter of the dead woman, sustained a fractured right wrist, cuts and bruises. Mrs. L. Russell of Galveston, another daughter of Mrs. Moore, was seriously cut and bruised. Mrs. Russell's two children, Leola Russell, aged 8, and Carl Russell, aged 5, also sustained numerous cuts and bruises. Miss Trixie McClelland, actress in a vaudeville sketch now playing in Galveston, was slightly bruised. Hubert Hemmeler and Will Schirmer, drivers of the two cars, escaped with slight bruises and minor cuts. Both cars were partially wrecked by the jagged rocks of the riprap.

Thrown From Automobile.

The accident took place about 11 o'clock Monday evening, apparently with no witnesses save the occupants of the two cars. The crash and the ensuing screams attracted attention at the John Sealy hospital, three blocks away, and in response to a telephone call from the nurses, Malloy's automobile ambulance was hurried to the scene. Mrs. Moore was found dead, stretched by the curb of the boulevard sidewalk. Her lower jaw was shattered, and her scalp laid back from her skull where she had been driven headfirst against the ridge of concrete. The other members of the party went over the seawall with the two automobiles, by an apparent miracle escaping instant death. Marks on the sidewalk showed where one machine had skidded diagonally nearly fifty feet before toppling over the edge of the seawall to the rocks below.

Drivers Are Arrested.

Notification of the accident also reached the police headquarters, and close on the heels of the ambulance followed Night Sergeant Dave Henry with several officers in the police ambulance. Chauffeur Hemmeler was taken into custody on a charge of fast and reckless driving and later in the evening a similar charge was signed against Chauffeur Will Schirmer. Contlicting accounts of the accident were given.

The injured members of the party were raised from the wrecked cars and transported to the John Sealy hospital. Mrs. Blaier, Mrs. Russell and Mrs. Russell's little son and daughter were found to be suffering from the shock of the accident, as well as from cuts and bruises received in their 17-foot fall. Members of their families in the city were at once notified.

PAVING MATERIAL TO BE CHOSEN BY ABUTTING PROPERTY OWNERS

Commission Passes Contract Over Until Friday to Hear From Those Who Will Pay the Bills—Bids Showing Material and the Cost.

Responding to the desire of the people to have a say in the character of paving to be used along North Eleventh street, the city commission yesterday morning passed over until Friday the letting of the contract for that roadway, extending from Austin avenue to Colonial street.

Yesterday morning Commissioner Foster brought up the matter of the paving. He said: "Gentlemen, I am ready to make a recommendation for the paving of North Eleventh street, but before I do so, if there is any discussion I would be glad to hear it."

Mayor Mackey—We have always invited interested parties to discuss the character of paving. We never let a contract without consulting with the people. Mr. McCollum has written a letter here on the subject.

Mr. McCollum's letter, in part, is as follows: "Hearing that there is some discussion regarding the proposal to pave North Eleventh street, as I am a property owner to a modest extent on that street, I naturally have some interest in the matter. It is possible that before any decision is reached you may be asked to have conferences and consider the subject. In view of the fact that I am on the eve of leaving the city and cannot say definitely how long I shall be absent, I respectfully beg to here go on record as to my views concerning the proposed paving. North Eleventh is now one of the most traveled streets in the city. When paved the demand on that street will be largely in excess of what it is at present. Therefore, in view of the heavy traffic on the street and the economy that must result in the long run from effective work, I am decidedly in favor of putting down the very best pavement that is available. * * * I am able to state on the authority of other frontage owners now absent from the city that such is their desire. Finally, as a citizen, and confident that you will do the best you can in this matter, I abide your decision with confidence."

Dollins Wants Vox Populi.

Commissioner Dollins—I would like to hear from the abutting property owners before the contract is let.

There is quite a difference between the bids. I would like for it to go over until Friday. If the property owners want bitulithic they will get it, as far as I am concerned. If they want the other, it is all right.

Commissioner Caufield—There is no hurry, as far as I am concerned.

Mayor Mackey—There is no disposition ever to take the bulk by the horns. We have never paved but one street without consulting the property owners, and that was Austin.

Commissioner Dollins—The impression is out that bitulithic was requested in the petition.

Commissioner Littlefield—I think it said the best, or some similar material.

Commissioner Caufield—Specific material is not mentioned in the petition, as the mayor called attention to the fact that specified material would eliminate competition.

Commissioner Littlefield—In some instances we have consulted the abutting property owners. If we were going to put down brick, we might be justified in allowing the property owners to come in and discuss what they want. We understand that in bitulithic

Ogle Is Loose; Support Is Ragged; Dallas Wins 8-4

Navigators Put on Comedy of the Season, and Giants Walk Away With an Easy Victory—Wohleben's Playing Is the Only Waco Feature.

Austin	66	73	.475
Fort Worth	64	76	.457
Galveston	61	80	.433
Beaumont	55	85	.393

Yes, several Navigators were near to catch balls knocked in yesterday's game. By careful examination of the box score it may be seen that the number of errors do not quite equal the number of chances. But, of course, the official scorekeeper was a little lenient with them.

After a high-strung match like that of the day before, when they were on their toes all the time, the Navigators had an excuse for loosening up a little. But it was a sad, sad surprise to see them wilt like they did yesterday.

And just when the Professor was off his balance and needing lots of cast-iron backing to pull him through.

After getting away with eight consecutive wins, Ogle lost his punch and before Hardy could believe it strong enough to snatch him the Giants had him up across the ropes.

His team mates stayed with him for a few rounds, but the starch in their make-up yesterday was decidedly lacking, and when the trouble began in the sixth they were about as supporting as a wet dish-rag.

A Joke on the Spectators.

In that humorous sixth—the joke was on the spectators who paid 50 cents per with expectations of seeing a baseball game—the famous Skipper infiel took the record for altitude in this year's aeroplane.

Hughie Jennings Beck dropped a peg square in his mit, with the runner ten feet away. Tanner and Dugay both passed the ball up when Carson pegged to break a double steal. Carson jugged one and let a man go to second. When Moseley knocked one into Beck's hands the third baseman stepped aside to let Storch reach third, then threw it over Wohleben's head. Tanner heaved one into the bather fence.

And in the meanwhile, Ogle had the pleasant job of pitching to a bunch of pennant aspirants who had their batting eye on the ball, with an unripe behind the plate who was having difficulty in determining just what to call them. Considering the fact that it was Ogle's day off to start with, that happy sixth inning will probably linger long in his memory.

Altogether it was a great and joyous occasion for those who like to see parades on the great national pastime.

Navigators Start Well.

And it started off like a good game. The Duke of Palestine was honored with a free ride. McLaury transported him to third with a single. Beck hit a fielder's choice and although the Duke was tagged at the plate, Beck got in a chase that distracted Kellerman's attention while McLaury went home.

Two singles and a double brought Dallas a one-run lead in the second. But it was clean hitting, and Tanner kept Waco spirits up by two nice stops.

Ogle Weakens.

In the fourth, the Professor showed signs of distress. After Tanner's error had let one man on, Ogle walked two, and a sacrifice bunt by Moseley brought home one run. It was luck that pulled out with no more serious trouble.

In the sixth, the lightning struck and the Navigator infielders threw up their hands as above showed.

Wohleben is All-Round Star.

All except Big Fred. With the infield slumping hopelessly away, and the outfielders beginning to wobble, Fred stood by his guns. He went up in the air once, but it was after Beck's wild peg. And the four runs that Dallas garnered in the funny section cannot anyways be credited to him.

In the next inning he tried to start a rally by parking the ball, but it was too stiff a pace for the rest to follow.

Rowland Relieves Ogle.

In the seventh, Rowland took up the job which the professor must have been glad to get rid of, and brilliantly assisted by errors at the hands of Beck and Kellerman, he forced in a run. After that he shut the visitors out. He singled the first time at bat and was saved by Wohleben's single.

Tanner came up with a two-bagger in the semi-final, and scored on Carson's hit, but that only brought in a total of four runs as opposed to eight that the Giants had garnered.

Altogether it was a sad affair. Dallas fans might have gotten enjoyment out of the ease with which the Navigators missed Schwenk's slow balls and the cute stunts that Tully pulled off in the way of fancy baserunning, but most of the fans were Waco fans and even Tully's wit couldn't make them think that their four-bit pieces had been well-spent.

Markets By Telegraph

Cotton.

New York, Aug. 26.—The cotton market was more active today than was yesterday, but showed extreme quietness and after making new high records for the movement, sold sharply under heavy realizing and exports that owing to an indifferent demand of spinners the spot basis was becoming easier. Realizing was very easy from the start, but offerings were readily absorbed by a broadening outside demand during the morning and it was not until stop orders had been uncovered on the advance above 12c for October that the market showed any sign of weakness. Early gains were practically lost in the late trading, however, with the close steady net 2 points lower on August and only 1 to 5 points higher on new crop months.

Private cables reported heavy selling and free offerings of actual in Liverpool and the local market opened steady at a decline of 2 points to an advance of 2 points in sympathy with the somewhat easier English showing. There was a big demand around the initial figures, which seemed to include a broadening outside interest as well as further covering and the market quickly advanced. Reports of higher temperatures in the southwest and expectations of a bullish weekly weather review added to the confidence of buyers and during the middle of the day prices sold 21 to 25 points above the closing figures of last night with August contracts touching 12.25 and October 12.15, an advance of 12.25 per bale on active new crop positions from the low level of two weeks ago.

Wall street shorts were active buyers above 12c for October, while there was also an urgent demand from Memphis and New Orleans, but demand slackened early in the afternoon and the market was unsettled in the late trading with reactionary sentiment becoming somewhat more general, on reports that Texas was offering new crop shipments here on a parity with October contracts. It was reported also that demand in the south was showing little improvement and local traders considered the weekly weather report no more bullish than expected.

New Orleans.

New Orleans, Aug. 26.—The cotton market was active today. In the morning session prices took on a fairly wide advance, but in the afternoon the gain was lost because of the profit-taking operations of the long side. While no weakness was displayed the market had a downward tendency in the afternoon, although considerable fresh buying came from bullish inclined traders who were waiting for a soft spot.

Bulls claimed that the short interest had been eliminated and replaced by a long interest. Crop news was as unfavorable as ever. The weather map was dry and the forecast promised fair weather in Texas and Oklahoma. Crop accounts from these states were sensational and led to much buying. The claims became more general that little could be done toward repairing the crop damage now evident, no matter what the weather conditions in the near future.

The market opened steady at a decline of 4 to 5 points on disappointing cables and heavy offerings from the long side. Weather news checked the downward movement and stimulated buying until prices commenced to move upward strongly. After the weekly weather reports at 11 o'clock the market stood 20 to 21 points over yesterday's close. In the afternoon all the advance was lost through profit taking by the long side. The close was steady 1 point up to 1 point down compared with last prices of yesterday.

Grain.

Chicago, Aug. 26.—Corn prices rose 1c to 2c today on hot weather in nearly the entire corn belt. Wheat eased at the close after an early show of strength, quotations being a shade to 2c net lower. Oats closed 1c@1c to 2c off and provisions finished a shade up to 2c down.

The chief bull factor in corn today was renewed talk of damage by heat in Nebraska. Dry hot weather prevailed over almost the entire corn country and the forecast was for a continuance of this condition for several days at least. September shorts covered freely and rising prices were helped also by higher cables. The weekly Iowa crop report also stiffened prices with its showing of large losses to corn in various parts of the state, the crop being estimated at more than a million bushels less than last year. Wheat weakened toward the close, largely on an increase of more than 2,000,000 bushels in the world's available supply. Another source of weakness was a falling off in speculative wheat demand, corn coming in for the greater share of attention again.

Heavy selling of oats by leading cash houses took the snap out of the market after an early show of strength.

Heavy selling of near months by tired longs depressed provisions, though at the close there was a better showing in lard.

CONSTRUCTIVE POLICIES

A bank may be said to have "constructive policies" when providing more than a safe depository for the funds of patrons and paying them over on demand, it takes an active interest in their business affairs and constructs a service for them which reaches the vital elements of their success.

Just how the constructive policies of this bank may influence your success can be determined by an early interview.

CLAIMS REFUND OF TAXES TO DEMAND NEW PAVEMENT

If same Levy Was Paid in Houston,
Then Waco Will Give Back
the Money.

City Attorney Instructed to Proceed on the Maintenance Bond as to Alley.

If the National Compress Company of New Jersey paid taxes on the engines and boilers which were moved from Waco in July, 1911, to the city of Houston for the year 1912, then the amount paid to the city of Waco in taxes on the same property will be refunded.

At the commission meeting yesterday morning a letter was presented from George W. King, assistant general manager, which reads: "On February 28 we sent a check for $434 in payment of taxes of the National Compress Company of New Jersey. We protested against the payment, as in July, 1911, we had moved the machinery and boilers to Houston, therefore the tax was not due on this property. We requested a refund of $328.12 on this account and wrote Mr. Stripling at the time. Won't you please advise us as to when we can expect a check for this amount. We have a note from S. H. Clayton under date of July 26 saying, 'In my opinion the National Compress Company of New Jersey is entitled to a refund of the engine and boilers.'

The matter was discussed and Finance Commissioner T. A. Caulfield suggested that it be the sense of the commission that if the company paid the taxes in Houston on the same property for that year that the amount be refunded. This action was adopted.

Mayor Mackey stated in this connection that an effort was made during 1912 to get the company to render the property, but that the company failed to do more than to say "put it in at the same figure as last year."
